

COVID-19 (Coronavirus)

In this time of uncertainty and change we wanted to reach out to you and let you know that Security 1 Solutions can continue to assist you.

We would like to reassure our valued clients and suppliers that Security 1 Solutions is still operating as normal and we are constantly updating safety measures relating to COVID-19 (Coronavirus) and as part of our safety control measures is to reduce and limit the spread of this virus as information comes to hand.

Please continue to contact us for service and download requests by our admin or service emails (admin@security1solutions.com.au or service@security1solutions.com.au) .

If support is required onsite, we will contact your site prior to confirm if it's safe to enter your premises. If not, we will work with you in coming up the best service we can support our clients with and in preventing the virus from spreading.

Security 1 Solutions receives regular safety updates from NECA and the Australian Government Department of Health which we then communicate to all staff through verbal daily communication, regular staff meetings and staff memo boards.

We are serious about the Health Hygiene practices in place and the requirements. Therefore, we do ask that standard introduction formalities such as shaking hands is to cease until further notice.

Currently there has been no exposure with any of our staff at Security 1 Solutions. Our staff are all aware of the COVID-19 symptoms and have been advised not to come to work if they are experiencing any of these symptoms.

We look forward to working with you through these unusual times and please don't hesitate in getting in contact with us should you require any assistance.

Kind Regards,

Management
Security 1 Solutions
